

Health Care Matters Therapy: Making a Difference

Physical, Occupational and Speech Therapy

Therapy takes a personal and direct approach to an individual's health needs. Along with the patient and other health care practitioners, the therapist shares the hard work and commitment needed to accomplish each individual patient's goals. Because recovery does not end for the patient as soon as they are out of the therapist's direct care, therapists must teach patients and their families what to do so that progress continues through self-care at home.

- Our therapists have many years of experience.
- Physical therapy visits scheduled seven days a week.
- Physical therapy has eight rehab protocols. The most applicable protocol is issued to the client and left in the home.
- All orthopedic diagnoses seen the next day unless requested otherwise by the physician.
- Our therapists will assist with transitioning to out-patient therapy as needed.
